Volume 45; Issue 2

FEBRUARY 2025

"For I am longing to see you so that I may share with you some spiritual gift to strengthen you- or rather so that we may be mutually encouraged by each other's faith, both yours and mine."
-Romans 1:11-13

Winters in North Dakota can be long and somewhat brutal. As we trudge through this winter it is easy to feel isolated or disconnected and from our church family and friends. But as humans we have a need to be connected to other humans. It's engrained in our DNA. This need starts out at infancy and develops on through childhood into adulthood. We need to feel a connection with our parents, siblings, friends, coworkers, and spouses.

No one understands this need for connectivity better than us as Midwesterners. We try to make connections all the time. In the event of meeting a total stranger at the grocery store we might delve into their family genealogy as a form of small talk! After all there is a possibility that you could know half their family or at least maybe gone to school with a distant cousin or in-law. We as Midwesterners, as human beings, as children of God, need to feel connected.

When we get together Joe and his mom will take this to a new level. They will sit down and relay the news from Joes hometown of Gonvick. They will get into so and so's health ailment or a person's second cousins niece that had a particularly good basketball game the week before..... Then they will talk and twist a web of lineage from person to person. Sort of Six degrees of Gonvick.

Why do they do this? Why do we all do this? To feel connected. To be reminded that we aren't an island in this big ocean of life. There are people to grasp onto, to bring us closer to call us a name from childhood that only they would know. To see us as we truly are. To see who we truly are. In connection we are shown who we are, but most importantly we are shown who God is. In the simple act of connection, we are witnesses to God's work in the world.

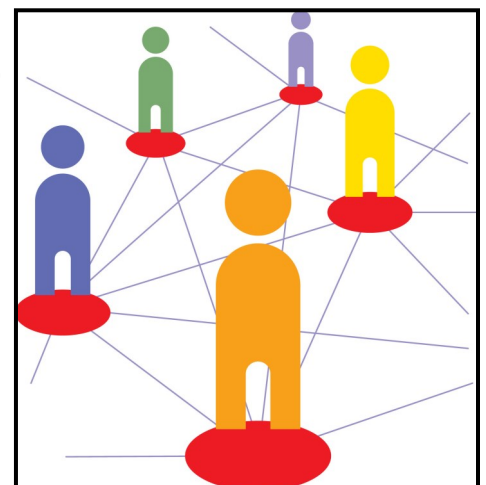

In acts of kindness, in each other's wavering and unwavering faith, in a like on social media, in a one finger wave on a gravel road, in a comforting word during a time of need. We see God, we are connected to each other, we are connected to God.

You are encouraged this winter to make connections with each other, through mutual love, understanding, and peace. How you do that will be up to you. Maybe you can make a concerted effort to call, text, or write a letter to those you care about. Whatever way you make connections, I hope you find peace, understanding, and love and know that Our Savior's Church is there for you. God is connected to you.

Until we connect again,

May we be mutually encouraged by each other's faith, both yours and mine.

Pastor Amanda

 - ii. Linda Hawn has resigned as the church and bell choir director as she is moving. OSLC will envision how these groups move forward.
 - iii. OSLC is looking for a new custodian. Thank you to those who have helped during the interim. As we look for a replacement, volunteers are needed for cleaning and snow removal.
 - b. 2025 Preliminary Budget – Daniel Nelson moved to recommend a 2025 Budget of $455,225 to the congregation at the annual meeting on January 26, 2025. Teresa Forseth seconded. All in favor, motion carried.
 - c. Nominating Committee Update – Barb Hultin will not be seeking re-election for President. Offices on the council up for election are President, Vice President, Secretary, one deacon, and one trustee. The Nominating Committee is working to find people feeling called to those offices.
5. New Business –
6. Pastor Joe's Report – It has been another good year at Our Savior's Lutheran Church. The Advent theme Star of Wonder was well received. We had three Christmas Eve worship services including 1:30 p.m. at the Hillsboro Care Center, 3:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. at the church building. All three services were well attended. I attended Pastor Karin Moberg's retirement worship service and reception at Hickson Lutheran Church on December 8. OSLC hosted the Community Christmas Concert on Sunday, December 8. Choir Director Linda Hawn will be moving and has resigned from her staff position at church. We thank her for her years of service. We had the Sunday School Christmas program on Sunday, December 15 at the 10:30 worship service. On December 13 I met with the Eastern North Dakota Candidacy committee and conducted interviews. I finished the year with 6 vacation days (including one Sunday) that were unused and 3 continuing education days (including 1 Sunday) that were unused. I wish to express gratitude to all those on council and other volunteers who have served in many ways.
7. Pastor Amanda's Report – December was of course busy. The Sunday school Christmas program on Dec 15th had 20 fourth through sixth graders participating in small group singing and speaking parts. For the first time, the children conducted the entire worship service from the opening song to the blessing and sending. It was a magical way to have worship. Additionally, about forty more children from three years through sixth grade sang in the Sunday school program choir. Beside the enormous task of putting on three Christmas eve services, we also followed up the "Won't You Be My Neighbor" theme, with the focus of "Star of Wonder" for our time of Advent and Sunday worship. This focus helped us look at ways to follow a path to Jesus just as the wise men followed the star.

The “Star of Wonder” theme culminated with everyone on Christmas Eve receiving a star word to follow Jesus into the new year. Lastly, I have continued to conduct hospital visits, planning for the new year, and pastoral care visits, as well as planning Sunday school lessons.

8. Treasurer’s Report – Jason Lovas reported that we ended 2024 even. We had very strong giving in December of more than $85,000. OSLC now owns the property at 214 East Caledonia Avenue free and clear by borrowing money from ourselves. The balance of the media fund is $3,739. Michael Bare made a motion to approve treasurer’s report, seconded by Beth Christianson. Discussion. All in favor, motion carried.
9. Deacons’ Report – Thank you to Joy McSparron for helping out during December.
10. Trustees’ Report – Report presented.
11. Committee Reports
12. Thank you – Thank you to Barb Hultin for her work as president. Barb also thanked the council for their good work.
13. Secretary’s Report –
 - a. January 5, 2025 Meeting Minutes – Dawn Paulsrud moved to accept the December 8, 2024 meeting minutes as presented. Eric Johnson seconded. All in favor, motion carried.

I have some information from Lutheran Partners in Global Ministry and Global Health Ministries, we have supported both of these ministries again last year. LPGM is providing training for teachers to enhance their ability to relate to students in helpful ways. GHM has a need for volunteers to serve in other countries. See their articles below. They cannot take volunteers into Central African Republic at this time, because of the unrest and violence. They have an agreement with students at University of Minnesota-Twin Cities campus to test and repair medical equipment donated. See the article below.

An article from Lutheran World Relief tells of their work expanding to United States, just in time for our natural disasters. Quilts and kits are a great way of showing God's love to people in difficult situations. We are in need of people to assist with the quilting and kits. Quilting is being done on Mondays from 9 AM to 4PM come for any part of the day. Anyone without sewing experience can do the tasks involved. Remember to keep all of these people in need in your prayers and contribute to the Global Mission Fund at any time, especially during Lent, when Lenten service offerings are given to Global Missions.

In His Service

Lutheran Partners in Global Ministry (LPGM)

"I have taught you the way of wisdom; I have led you in the paths of uprightness. Keep hold of instruction; do not let go; guard her, for she is your life." Proverbs 4:11, 13

Teachers working with students in Tanzania, India, and the Central African Republic need your support. As they prepare students for their futures -academically, spiritually, and mentally- they reflect God's love to their students, igniting hope and empowering students to follow their dreams, regardless of the dark circumstances of their pasts.

- ~$5 buys one literacy workbook for a woman or girl learning to read and write in the Central African Republic.
- ~$40 can pay one literacy instructor's salary for a month in the CAR.
- ~$85 can provide one teacher with training to make school safer for at-risk students in Tanzania.

Your investment in these inspiring role models kindles flames within students, igniting hope for individual students and for the future of God's kingdom on earth. In this sacred season, may we all be inspired by teachers who have influenced us and, like them, be a light of God's love shining to all around us.

Thank you for investing in education and in teachers, and for bringing hope to children at the margins!

With love and light,

Pastor Daniel Ruth
Exec. Director, LPGM

P.S. Quality education begins with quality teachers. They build trust with students by treating them with respect and compassion, thereby keeping them in school and motivating them to aspire to their highest potential using their God-given gifts. Your gift will help train and support teachers, who are critical to the wellbeing of all children around the globe.

Global Health Volunteers

This year, Global Health Ministries has launched an exciting new program to help the hands that heal. Many of GHM's international partners have shared with us their deep need for short-term capacity building. Global Health Volunteers is a direct response to those needs, creating opportunities for surgeons, nurses, midwives, palliative care specialists, administrators and others to serve with one of our partners overseas. GHM covers all costs for travel, food and housing for volunteers, who are in-country from 3 weeks to 3 months.

Ngaoundere Protestant Hospital in Cameroon and SALFA, the Lutheran health system in Madagascar, are both seeking volunteer surgeons. Ngaoundere is also seeking an orthopedist. The Lutheran School of Nursing in Madagascar has expressed a need for nursing faculty to teach specialized nursing skills, and Selian Hospice in Tanzania is seeking palliative care professionals to teach and mentor best practices for patient care and volunteer management. These short-term mission opportunities come out of GHM's deep relationships with partners, and commitment to sustainable health development.

GO GOPHERS!

GHM's Shipping program sends both purchased and donated medical equipment to international partners, helping them build their capacity to provide quality healthcare to surrounding communities. Donated equipment that is not new is tested before it is sent. This fall, GHM was contacted by a sophomore student in the biomedical engineering program at the University of MN, Twin Cities campus. Anita reached out to ask whether her class could partner with GHM to inspect and repair donated equipment. GHM said YES! The students have started with a pulse oximeter, EKG and patient monitor, testing and calibrating the machines, finding user and service manuals, sourcing and installing replacement batteries. When repairs are finished they'll certify the equipment and return it to GHM, ready to ship to our partners overseas. Go Gophers!

Sharing Even More Love, Right Here at Home (Lutheran World Relief)

Families who have so little - and are left with nothing following a disaster or must survive harsh weather - are incredibly grateful and touched to receive handmade quilts that provide warmth and comfort.

The Quilt & Kit Ministry is Lutheran World Relief's longest running program. Since 1945, quilts and kits have been shipped abroad to neighbors in need. Today, our Quilt & Kit Ministry is expanding to comfort our nearest neighbors in the United States!

This exciting growth comes as LWR marks 80 years of profound impact around the world, and at a time when care, kindness and support are needed more than ever.

There is a growing demand for quilts and kits from our U.S. partners, who are eager to share these gifts of care and comfort with families and individuals affected by emergencies and disasters, coping with crises or struggling in poverty.

We are tremendously grateful to the entire Quilt & Kit Ministry community for making this significant and historic expansion possible.

If you are able, we humbly encourage you to use your incredible talents to continue making quilts and kits for neighbors in need around the world, including at home in the U.S. For more information on how to help with this Ministry, visit lwr.org/expansion.
